PACOLET MILLS, S. C., FEBRUARY, 1950

NUMBER ELEVEN

He Felled The Trees And Built A House

Pacolet Home Attracts Wide Attention

Pacolet community is noted for its attractive homes, but there is not one that is attracting more attention and comment, and deservedly so, than that of Mr. Ernest Odell.

This enterprising Pacolet citizen, lacking in any professional training, drew up plans and built the house shown in the above picture without any professional assistance. From ground up, it's the fruit of his own labor. The only help given him came from his family including Mrs. Vesta Odell, his wife, son Charles, and brother-in-laws Clyde Hill, Jr. and Ray Pannell. Mrs. Rosa Bledsoe, mother of Mrs. Odell, has further added to the beauty of the house by planting bulbs of various kinds for a flower garden on either side of the house.

Located about 2 miles northeast of the village, it will have 9 rooms, 6 of which are already finished, and will be ready for the Odell family to move in by April.

Mr. Odell has worked on the house in the time which his regular job in the weave room would allow. He estimated that about 9000 hours had been spent in constructing the house. The size of the house is approximately 40x70 ft. Total cost up to the present time amounts to about $8,000.

This ambitious project dates back to Nov. 16, 1945, when Mr. Odell acquired the 5.10 acre lot for $150. In October 1945, he began clearing the lot. Trees which were felled were cut into logs to provide the material to build the home. Total cost of labor for hauling and other miscellaneous expenses amounted to $52.00. Logs were treated by hand with creosote, and joined together and the result was a house built of homegrown timber.

The interior is truly a "house beautiful." Douglas fir paneling is used in the living and dining room, and knotty pine in 3 rooms. The kitchen is built-in, and kitchen and bathroom are tile finished. The house is fully insulated throughout with rock wool.

This Pacolet home is achieving not only local but also widespread fame. Mr. Odell's story parallels that of the man who built a better mousetrap and hid away to the forest, but the world beat a path to his door to see his achievement any way. Visitors from 25 states have already seen the Odell home.

Pacolet Mills School Notes

Our notes this month are rather few and far between because of so much sickness. We have had mumps and measles and measles and mumps, and many perfect attendance records for several years have been broken. The following children are still clinging to their perfect records:

First Grade: Ronnie Motts, Richard Rogers, Pamela Hodge, and Judy Lee.

Second Grade: None.

Third Grade: Terry Kirby, Ronnie White, and Felston Ridings.

Fourth Grade: Herman Davis, Jr., Maureen Ellison, Barbara Pannell, and Jackie Motts.

Fifth Grade: Layvonne Jones, Harry Chalk, and Tommy Cagle.

Grade 6B: None.

Grade 6A: Imogene Fowler, and Doris Camby.

Seventh Grade: Janice Kirby, Joanne Millwood, Jackie Holmes, and James Gleaton.

Our superintendent has been absent also—though not with mumps and measles. We are glad to have Miss Venable back at school after an operation and short stay in the General Hospital.

The following grades gave programs during January: The third grade presented a program entitled "The Snow Man"; Grade 6B gave a program on the month of January; the fourth grade, which has charge of the polio drive, presented a program and movie, "In Daily Battle". They also had a very interesting bulletin board on polio.

Last but not least—mid-term examinations have been finished, much to the relief of both pupils and teachers, and the second semester is in full swing.

Great Americans

THEIR BIRTHDAYS COME IN FEBRUARY

GEORGE WASHINGTON
February 22nd

February 22 is the birthday of George Washington, our first great President. May this country long be worthy of the great heritage with which he endowed it.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN
February 12th

—His Spirit Still Lives

In Springfield, Illinois, the body of Lincoln lies buried in a ball of steel and solid cement ten feet under the floor of his tomb.

The spirit of Lincoln cannot be buried!

In tens of thousands of school buildings portraits of this kindly, tolerant man look down to inspire youth to grow big and great.

His voice is recreated out of the past and we listen to his words of wisdom brought to us through the magic of radio.

In deathless bronze, the masterful hands of sculptors cast the figure and features of the man.

From the pulpits of the land, preachers extol the principles for which he paid the last full measure of devotion.

Biographies of his life continue to come from the press.

Poets continue to sing of him and in their lines we see again, "the prairie lawyer—master of us all."

Millions of newspapers carry again the story of the man who rose from log cabin to the presidency.

The spirit of Lincoln still lives, and while it lives America is safe.

"My beard was bothering me; so I came home for a shave."—Texas jail fugitive when captured at home.

MRS. JAMES FLOYD THOMPSON

BUILDERS AND WRECKERS

I watched them tearing a building down,

A gang of men in a busy town. With a ho-heave ho and a lusty yell

They swung a beam and a side wall fell

I asked the foreman: "Are these men skilled,

And the men you'd hire if you had to build?"

He gave a laugh and replied, "No, indeed!

Just common labor is all I need. I can easily wreck in a day or two

What builders have taken a year to do."

And I thought to myself as I went my way,

Which of those rolls I have tried to play,

Am I a builder who works with care,

Measuring life by the rule and square,

Am I shaping my deeds to a well laid plan,

Patiently doing the best I can? Or am I a wrecker who walks the town,

Content with the labor of tearing down?

—Author Unknown.

"BACK SEAT" SEWING

A husband drew up his chair beside his wife's sewing machine.

"Don't you think you're running too fast?" he asked. "Look out!

You'll sew the wrong seam. Mind that corner, now! Slow down, watch your finger! Steady!"

"What's the matter with you, John?" said his wife, alarmed.

"I've been running this machine for years!"

"Well, dear, I thought you might like me to help you, since you help me drive the car."

A wheelbarrow will stand on its two legs and never move a foot unless you lift it up and push it along. So would business. You've got to pick it up and push it along.

If you're a man of few words, you won't have to take so many of them back.

MRS. FRED DANNA

The wedding of Miss Mildred Fleming and Lt. Fred Dana took place December 27, 1949, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. T. Tate.

Mrs. Edward Toney of Jonesville attended the bride as matron of honor and Edward Toney acted as best man.

Lt. and Mrs. Dana will make their home at Fort Knox, Ky., where Lt. Dana is stationed.

Jim Hill, the great railroad builder of our American Northwest, once said, "If you want to know whether you are going to be a success or not, you can easily find out. The test is simple and is infallible. Are you able to save money? If not, drop out; you will lose; you may think not, but you will lose sure as fate, for the soul of success is not in you."

The TELAPACO News Staff

They Publish The School Newspaper

The accompanying picture shows the staff of the Pacolet High School newspaper, known to the students as the Telapaco. This publication makes its appearance each six weeks and features the news of interest to the students and the community generally. Through this medium an opportunity is offered for students to do some creative writing and become familiar with some of the details of newspaper work, styling, format, and advertising.

Traditionally it has been a mimeograph product, having been typed by the Commercial Department and run off on the school mimeograph by students. As of this school year it was decided to have the sheet printed by a recognized print shop. Along with this facelifting in the general look of the paper has gone a concerted effort to improve the literary style and also the reading content of the paper.

The Telapaco was recognized this year by being accepted as a member of a nationally known newspaper organization, the Quill and Scroll. In this connection it is also possible for students who have contributed material of good quality and quantity to become individual members of the Quill and Scroll organization. In this way students may gain recognition for these talents that might not otherwise have such an opportunity for recognition.

The staff of the school is deeply appreciative of the support for its publication program, of which the Annual (called The Tomahawk, bearing out the general Indian idea that is being featured in the school) is a part. Were it not for the generous advertising given us these things would not be possible for our school. A later edition will carry news of the Annual in more detail.

A word of appreciation is in order for the services of Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Morrell, Mr. Blackwell and to the faculty generally and to this fine group of young people who make the paper click. It is hoped that you will see it, like it, and you might even subscribe to it.

SEND HER A VALENTINE

EDGAR A. GUEST

Send her a Valentine to say
You love her in the same old way.
Just drop the long familiar ways
And live again the old-time days
When love was new and youth was bright,

And all was laughter and delight,
And treat her as you would if she
Were still the girl that used to be.

Pretend that all the years have passed

Without one cold and wintry blast;
That you are coming still to woo
Your sweetheart as you used to do;
Forget that you have walked along
The path of life where right and wrong

And joy and grief in battle are
And play the heart without a scar.

Be what you were when youth was fine

And send to her a Valentine;
Forget the burdens and the woe
That have been given you to know,
And to the wife, so fond and true,
The pledges of the past renew,
"Twill cure her life of every ill
To find that you're her sweetheart still.

TEACHERS TO TOUR KANSAS FACTORIES

MISS MCGAHA IS GIVEN SHOWER

Thursday night, January 12th, Miss Virginia McGaha was honored with a miscellaneous shower at the Girls Club. Upon arrival the bride-elect found her chair marked with a carnation corsage.

After games and contests, led by Miss Margaret Tate, Miss Mary Lee McIntyre came running in dressed like a news boy, yelling, "Extra! Extra! Read All About It; Virginia McGaha and Dock Owens Will Be Married January 20, 1950!"

The honoree was then asked into an adjoining room where she found many lovely and useful gifts. Dainty heart and wedding ring sandwiches, bridal cakes, and coffee were served by the hostesses.

THE VALUE OF COLOR

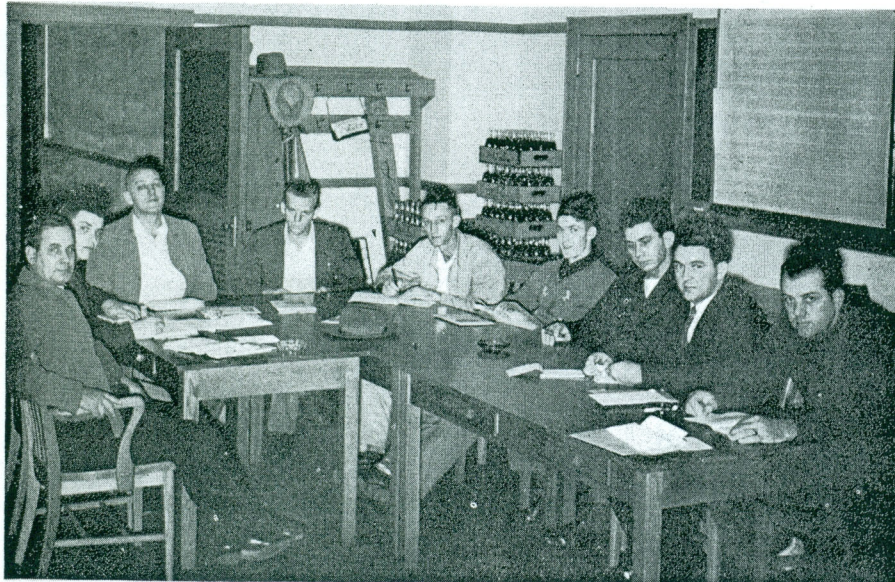

When Sears-Roebuck first pictured wall paper in colors in its catalog, sales volume increased 1200 percent, and drapery fabrics, pictured in colors showed an increase of 1600 percent. A Montgomery-Ward catalog test showed that a fashion page of women's coats in their catalog, in colors, sold $238,000 worth of coats in one season compared to the highest previous season's total of $82,000 sold while a black and white section only was being used.

Another direct-mail house published and distributed two editions of its catalog, identical in textual matter and illustrations; one was in black and white and the other in colors. An equal number of each was sent to the same class of buyers. The color catalog outsold 15 to 1.

The Mission of The Church A Letter

By W. T. TATE, Pastor Pacolet Mills Baptist Church

The church is the only institution fashioned and founded by our Lord when he was on earth. His statement: "The gates of hell shall not prevail against it," has been verified by history. Through the centuries it has been persecuted, tried by fire and sword, but it has survived. The church with all its faults, and it has plenty, stands today as the greatest and most powerful institution on earth. Persecution has not crushed Christ's church, no power has beaten it back, time has not abated its force, and, what is more amazing, all the abuses and inconsistencies of its friends have not shaken its stability. It seems that the church has suffered more internally than externally.

The church has a temporal mission. The prophet Haggai recognized a relationship between the house of God and temporal affairs. He pictures the unprofitableness of a godless life. When the sowing is without God, the harvests are unproductive. "Ye have sown much and brought in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe ye, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages earneth wages to put in a bag with holes . . . ye looked for much, and lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it. Why? saith the Lord of hosts. Because of mine house that is waste, and ye run every man into his own house." What the prophet is saying is your labor without God is vain toil. Christ said "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."

Fundamentally the mission of the church is spiritual. Sometimes men raise the question why does not the church settle strikes, put an end to war, or elect the best candidates to office, or give pronouncements on a multiplicity of problems in human society. The answer is that the church is engaged in a greater business. The mission of the church is not social and political reform, but salvation. The supreme business of the church is to make the human heart right; all other things will follow, and there will be no wars, no corruption or injustices in the world.

The church gives fellowship. Outside our homes, in and through the church come the most beautiful and inspiring fellowships of life. Whenever a worshiper crosses the threshold of any church he should feel that he is in a brotherhood among friends. If we, as church members, would pray more and love more, gossip less and find fault less, if we would strive to see not the worst but the best in others, if we would go to church not only to get good for ourselves, but to make it easier for others to find God, then the whole service would become a unity of fellowship so that the sad, the distressed, the lonely, the broken-hearted, the mentally tortured, and the spiritually dead would be brought into the glorious fellowship of new life in Christ Jesus.

(The following from a good friend of Pacolet and The Pacolet Neigh has been received for publication.) Dear Mother:

Thanks for the copy of Pacolet Neigh,

I received a New Years edition today—

And scanned each line from beginning to end, Searching for mention of acquaintance or friend.

It gives me great joy and reminiscent pain

To see such familiar faces again. Community improvements, civic affairs,

A bit of humor with modern airs. Here's Mr. Holland! Shades of Aunt Sue!!

Is there anything that he can't do?

What's this? A wedding? Tsk, Tsk, dear me!

As solemn and sad as a funeral could be.

I see a new baby that's as sweet as candy,

And what a smile on wee, sweet Randy

But on page two! What's THIS? Oh, no!

At first I thought it was Sparkle, But now I'm sure it's B. O.

Big feet with five toes and a fuzzy chin,

A wobbly buggy and a toothy grin; I know there aint but I know there ort

To be a law against a thing of this sort.

What's that? It is? Ben Hogan? Really!

Well, I must say he looks mighty silly.

Gossip

BELLE FULLER

Mr. Junie Goforth butchered 4 pigs at once recently. Of course he and "Miss Mary" are the only ones at home, but each of his children comes in for a ham and some of the spare ribs and sausage. It is Mr. Junie's delight to raise pigs for his children. The meat is his Christmas gift to them each year.

Mill No. 3 sent groceries and Christmas gifts to Sam Gosnell's family. Sam isn't working with us any more, but he has had hard luck, and that seems to be all that Pacolet Mills folk need to know.

Do you know that Rev. Gregory writes a sermon into each church bulletin? If you haven't read them carefully, do so, and then take time to tell him how much you appreciate his good work.

If you hear something nice about a person, tell him. It helps wonderfully to build up our courage to know that people like us.

Elms Gibson, our good friend from the canteen, has had a series of operations, and is still very ill. We are thinking of him and hoping that he will soon be back on the job.

We are very sorry to hear that Mrs. Roy White has been so ill, and is making such a slow recovery. We trust that she will be back home soon.

We hope next month to have a list of our people who have bought and built homes of their own. If you know of any will you report it to us? If anyone cares to have a picture of his home printed in our paper we shall be glad to do so if he will bring us a good picture of the house.

A GOOD CREED:

We pass through this world but once. Any good therefore that I can do or any kindness I can show to any person let me do it now. Let me not postpone it or defer it for I shall not pass this way again.

PREMATURE

If you want to be an old man

Long before your time,
Never fool with poetry,
Never make a rhyme.

Never play with children,

Never skip the rope,
Never have a good time
Blowing bubble soap.

Never go a fishing,

Never pass the ball,
Never ramble in the woods
In summer or in fall.

Never lift your eyes to God,

Keep 'em looking down,
Never wear a pleasant smile,
Always wear a frown.

Never take your time to eat,

Always overstuff,
Never have the sense to know
When you've had enough.

Never have a mind at ease

By keeping out of debt,
Never fail to smoke a pipe,
Cigar or cigarette.

If you do these faithfully,

I'll bet my bottom dime,
That you'll be an old man
Long before your time.

Progress Shown In Montgomery Memorial Church

The work of the Montgomery Memorial Methodist Church in general is moving forward in a very progressive and satisfactory way. Each organization seems to be taking on a spirit of interest and concern in relation to the whole program of the church.

The Rev. S. D. Newell, superintendent of the Spartanburg District was with us on January 8th and conducted the first quarterly Conference of this Conference year. The reports given by the various officers of the church revealed commendable spiritual and material progress. This progress has inspired the members to hope and work for even greater achievements.

Mr. Ray E. Lee has recently been elected to serve as Lay leader for this conference year. Mr. Lee's duties call for close cooperation with the pastor in promoting the whole program of the church.

Miss Dorothy Green has been appointed to the position of church reporter. Miss Green will be responsible for giving publicity to the activities of the church.

The church has a good number of men and women to attend the District Missionary Rally held at Central Methodist Church in Spartanburg on January 11th and the District Lay Rally held at Trinity Methodist Church in Spartanburg on January 22nd.

Midweek prayer services were held in our church about a month ago and much interest has been shown in these services which are held each Wednesday night at 7:00 o'clock. The average attendance has been around 47.

The pastor and his family are enjoying a floor furnace oil heating system at the parsonage. We are very grateful to the church and the mill company for this convenience and comfort.

Members of the church choir have resumed weekly practice and those of the church who can help with this phase of the church services are asked to attend this weekly practice. The practice is held each Wednesday night following the prayer service.

A special effort is being made at the present time to get the church paper, The South Carolina Methodist Advocate coming into the homes of all the church members. Quite a number of our members have already subscribed to the paper.

We have noticed with deep delight the fine spirit of harmony and cooperation existing between the churches here. This is as it should be, and will mean more permanent progress for one and all.

J. T. GREGORY, Pastor.

We have three good scout leaders: Curtis Puckett, Scoutmaster; Kansas Goforth and Haskell Kimberlain, Assistant Scoutmasters.

We have four Eagle Scouts in our troop; Ersel Garner, Beverly Motts, Tom Mabry, and James Millwood. We rank second in the top 16 of the Palmetto Council.

Eagle Scout awards will be presented to Tom Mabry and James Millwood during the month of February at the Baptist Church, at which time the Methodist and Baptist Churches will join together for the ceremony.

We have two basketball teams, the Midgets, and the Big Scouts, (shown in picture.) The Midgets have won 2 and lost 2 games. The Scouts have won 6 and lost 5 games. Kansas Goforth is coach of the basketball teams.

Girl Scouts Meet

Amid chatter such as this: "You did," "I didn't," "Whose got a ticket to ride the Mule Train?" "Are we going to get a game for this week?", etc., Phyllis Parker with her low soft voice called the Girl Scouts to order.

After every one was seated and had quit giggling and laughing the meeting was carried out in usual order.

We have big plans ahead of us, especially a party we're looking forward to around the first of February, (Boy Scout Week.)

It's about time we were getting around to letting the Sponsors and Troop Committee of our Girl Scouts know we appreciate them. Anyway we want them to know our hearts are grateful. We have a little Scout room to be proud of and we intend to make it a place you will enjoy visiting. We have not asked for much as we have tried to get along without help. We will say, "Thank You."

Any time anyone wishes to attend our Scout meetings we welcome you. Time, Monday, 3:30 P. M.

Any service the Scouts can render to the community at any time, we will be glad to do it—Call on us. It's about time to stop this chatter, so until next month, "Do a good turn daily."
