

Presentation Of Orchid To Miss Fuller

A tea was given in honor of the 38th anniversary of the Girl Scouts and also honoring Miss Belle Fuller at the Girls Club Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Upon arrival each guest registered and was welcomed by Mrs. Jesse Paige, Scout Leader, and Mrs. Hassie Wells, Chairman of Troop Committee.

Prior to the tea guests were invited into the Scout room and were told of the activities of the troop. Group pictures of the Campfire Girls of 1916, Girl Scouts of '28, '29 and '30, and snapshots of later groups were displayed. A letter of much interest was read that Miss Fuller wrote in 1917 to one of the Campfire girls telling of the work the girls were doing here.

Mrs. Hassie Wells gave a welcome address followed by the history of Girl Scouting in Pacolet Mills, by Mrs. Jesse Paige, who told of the coming of Miss Belle Fuller to the community who organized the Campfire Girls in 1916 and has since that time been interested in all the activities of the girls. Three Campfire Girls of this group were present, Grace Caldwell, Rebecca Leatherwood and Marion Harrold.

Mrs. Weeks of the school faculty was praised for her work with the Girl and Boy Scouts. Janice Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kirby has made first class rank under her supervision. Mrs. Weeks has helped some of the Boy Scouts into their Eagle rank.

Mrs. R. D. Hill, Mrs. Hassie Wells, Mrs. Montine Rogers, Leacy Whitlock and Margie Allen were given credit for their activities in the Scout work.

Mr. T. J. Trowell, Miss Carey Henson, troop committees, gave brief talks. Mrs. Mildred Mathis, also troop committee, was present.

Girl Scouts under the leadership of Mrs. Montine Rogers, '28, '29, and '30, who were present were,

Altha Hughes, Blanche Arnold, Lillie Belle Patrick, Viola Banks, Beatrice Millwood, Lorena Allen, Hassie Wells, and Jesse Paige. Beatrice could only recall the amusing things during this period of scouting which caused much laughter. Bonnie Wells and Lois Green were not present.

Girl Scouts present under the leadership of Mrs. Weeks, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Wells were, Sara E. Harvey, Mrs. Betty M. Trent and Miss Mary Lou Millwood.

The tea table overlaid with a lace table cloth was beautiful with a crystal bowl of yellow snapdragons and plumosia, flanked by 2 crystal candelabra holding green tapers. Girl Scout cookies and ham salad sandwiches were served with the tea.

Miss Fuller was in the hospital, so a group left immediately after the tea to go to the hospital to see Janice Kirby present an orchid to Miss Fuller from the Girl Scouts for her outstanding work for all the girls of the community.

Nineteen Girl Scouts, 10 Y-Teens, and 11 mothers were present.

Summer Months Activities

Plans are being made for a wide variety of recreational activities for the young boys and girls of our community to enjoy during the summer months.

The young boys will have available to them sports of various types such as baseball, horseshoe courts, volley ball courts, and frequent trips to the State Park for the swimmers.

Plans are also being made for the girls in the community. A ping pong table has already been placed

Trojans Ready For Ball Season

Baseball fans are getting season conscious. You'll hear this sports topic discussed from dawn to dusk as the 1950 season opens, so let's all get behind our home team and push them on to victory in every game.

The Eastern Carolina League will get under way April 18th with six teams represented in the league this season. They are as follows: Riverdale, Inman, Mills Mill, Abney, Union and Pacolet.

It might interest you to know that this season the Eastern Carolina League will play two games each week, Tuesday and Saturday night until June 1st, after which they will play three games each week, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday.

The Pacolet Trojans are planning to field a strong team again this season. The team will be composed of the same familiar faces that played last year and managed by Raymond (The Red) Ellison. There will be several players from the second team trying out for positions on the first team.

The Trojans are already working out and plan to play several exhibition games before the regular scheduled season opens.

The Second Team will be represented in the Girls Club and is being used continuously by all the young people. The Girls Club is remaining open on Thursday night of each week for the teen age boys and girls. Softball teams will be organized for all girls interested.

These activities will be under the direction of Mrs. Eddie Wells and James (Pee Wee) Lambert.

Expect Large Crowd At Community Party

The outstanding event of the month for the Pacolet Mills community will be the Spring Fashion Show on Saturday night, April 1st at 7:00 p.m. at the Community Building.

This show is being put on as a benefit for the Boy Scouts of our community. We want to be able to send one scout and a scout master to the National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa. We feel that nothing could be more inspiring to our scout troop than to have members attend this great gathering of Scouts from all over the United States.

The show will be put on by the men of the community, directed by Mrs. Wells, Miss Fuller, and the Scout committee. Young women interested in the project are having a food sale of home cooked foods contributed by the ladies of the community, after the show.

We have outstanding talent in Pacolet Mills and we are presenting it in this hilarious entertainment.

The scene is a night club on 5th avenue. The waiters are singing minstrels who dance, gossip and entertain the guests.

A door prize will be given for the lucky number, so be sure to hang on to the stub of your ticket. The door prize is a Universal Toaster, given by Mr. Oren Robinette of Robinette Hardware, Pacolet, S. C.

Other contributions are being donated by various stores: Pacolet Drug Store, Thomas G. Brown's Grocery, M. W. & J. H. Brown's Store, Cherokee Packing Co., Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Hartness Bottling Co., Blue Bird Ice Cream Co., Thomas & Howard Co., B. S. Thomas Grocery, Arthur Stores, John Lee's Service Station, Wilkins Bro's Service Station, Clausens, Beckers, Waldensian Bread Co., A. E. Woodward, Community Cash, and Leo Kirby's Service Station.

Parties

DEANNE TEASTER

Saturday, March 18th, DeAnne Teaster celebrated her 12th birthday with a party at the Girls Club. This being the first night party for some of the younger set, it really was a celebration for them. After a hilarious time playing folk games etc. the young people were served delicious refreshments by DeAnne's mother, Mrs. Monroe Teaster, assisted by her daughter Phyllis Teaster, and Shirley Wells.

MRS JOYCE SHEHAN

Saturday, March 4th, Mrs. Joyce Shehan was honored with a household shower at the Girls Club by a group of her friends. After games and contests, led by Mrs. Eddie Wells and Mrs. Bill Harrold, Joyce was asked to open her gifts, of which there was a variety. The hostesses served delicious refreshments consisting of sandwiches, potato chips, ritz crackers, cookies, and pepsi-colas.

MR. AND MRS. J. F. THOMPSON

Mr. and Mrs. James Floyd Thompson were honored with a linen shower at the home of Mrs. Wade Sullivan, Saturday, March 18th.

Interesting games were directed by Mrs. Marie Thompson and Mrs. Marion Harrold. Winners of prizes were: Mrs. Belle Holt, Mrs. Winnie Parker and Mrs. Margaret Sichak.

The honorees received many beautiful pieces of linen. The hostesses served delicious refreshments consisting of potato salad, sandwiches, cookies, mints, and punch.

The person who cannot find a church that suits him would never suit in any church.

Thank You Note

Since it will be impossible to write each individual, I want to take this opportunity to thank each one for the lovely cards, gifts, flowers and visits during my recent illness. Your kindness and thoughtfulness is deeply appreciated.

Montgomery Memorial Methodist Church

Commitment Day was observed in our church on February 26 with a special temperance sermon preached by the pastor and a total of one hundred and seventy six people signing the commitment cards thereby pledging themselves to live a life of total abstinence from the use of alcoholic beverages.

The church auditorium was filled for the service and much interest was shown in the matter of getting before our people the vital importance of living a life of sobriety both in principle and practice.

The young people of our church, were recently organized into four departments of the Methodist Youth Fellowship. The four departments, namely, the Junior, Intermediate, Senior and Older Youth meet each Sunday night after the worship service for their respective group activities. The Adult Workers for the various departments are as follows: Juniors, Mrs. Haskel Kimberlain, Mrs. I. W. White Jr., and Mrs. John W. Eison; Intermediates, Mrs. James A. Mathis, Miss Dorothy Green, Mrs. George Harvey Jr., and Ray E. Lee; Seniors, Mrs. Ray E. Lee, Mrs. Morris White, and William Holmes; Older Youth, Mrs. Eddie Wells, Mrs. Willie Thompson, and Dallas Harvey. The other officers for the entire division are, Treasurer, John W. Eison; Song Leader, Mrs. Alfred Hood with Mrs. Harold Holmes as assistant; Pianist, J. C. Gault Jr.; Assistants, Myra Gregory and DeAnn Teaster. In addition to these general officers each department has its own officers.

Our church in cooperation with other denominations observed The Week of Dedication March 6-12. The attendance at all the services was very good. There were a total of 142 dedications or rededications during the week. A generous offering was made for the needy at home and abroad. The series of services came to a close with the observance of Holy Communion.

The Intermediate department of the M.Y.F., both members and adult workers enjoyed a weiner roast at Croft State Park on Friday night, March 17th.

Special Revival Services will begin in the Montgomery Memorial Methodist Church on Sunday, April 2nd and continue through Easter Sunday with services being held each night at 7:30 o'clock. The services will be in charge of the pastor who will preach each night during the week. We not only invite each and everyone to attend but we earnestly urge everyone to come and bring others.

The choir of our church is now working faithfully on the preparation of special Easter music which will be given on Easter Sunday night. We are sure that each of us can look forward to some real enjoyment of the special music at a time we are thinking of the resurrection of our Lord.

Remember to attend church somewhere in Pacolet Mills next Sunday and as you leave the church you attend dedicate your life to the high and holy work of making our churches, our schools, our homes, and our community places where there will be in reality the fine virtues of purity, friendliness, courtesy, kindness, love, sympathy, and reverence. As we make these institutions what they should be they in turn will make us what we should be.

—J. T. GREGORY, Pastor.

The Art Of Getting Along

WILFRED A. PETERSON

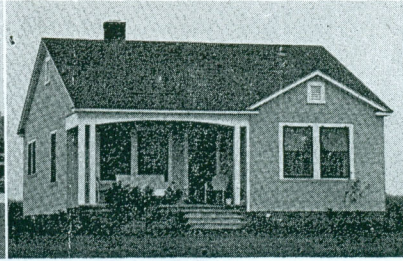

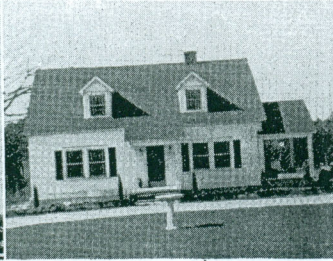

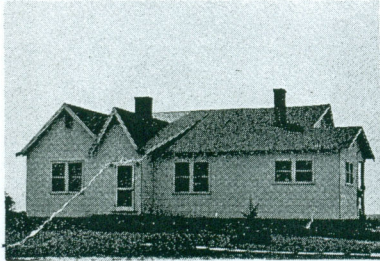

Sooner or later a man, if he is wise, discovers that business life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take. He learns that it doesn't pay to be a sensitive soul—that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back. He learns that he who loses his temper usually loses. He learns that all men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then and that he shouldn't take the other fellow's grouch seriously.

He learns that carrying a chip on his shoulder is the easiest way to get into a fight. He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others. He learns that it doesn't matter who gets the credit so long as the business shows a profit. He learns that buck passing always turns out to be a boomerang, and that it never pays.

He comes to realize that the business could run along perfectly well without him. He learns that it doesn't do any harm to smile and say, "Good morning," even if it is raining. He learns that most of the other fellows are as ambitious as he is, that they have brains that are as good or better, and that hard work and not cleverness is the secret of success. He learns to sympathize with the youngsters coming into the business, because he remembers how bewildered he was when he first started out.

He learns not to worry when he loses an order because experience has shown that if he always gives his best, his average will break pretty well. He learns that bosses are not monsters trying to get the last ounce of work out of him for the least amount of pay, but that they are usually fine men who have succeeded through hard work and who want to do the right thing.

He learns that the gang is not any harder to get along with in this place than another and that "getting along" depends about 98 per cent on his own behavior. (Copyrighted and used by permission of Ideals Publishing Co.)

Pacolet Employees Homes

Presented here are 4 more homes located in our community, and adding to its attractiveness.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Burgess, Jr. is shown on the upper left. Mr. Burgess is supply clerk at No. 3 and Mrs. Burgess is supply teacher at Pacolet Mills school.

In the center is the Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Mabry residence. It is a lovely 7 room house, beautifully furnished on the inside with built-in cabinets and lovely bath.

At the upper right is pictured the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilkins of Pacolet. Mr. Wilkins is in business in Pacolet and Mrs. Wilkins is employed in the personnel department of Pacolet Mills.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Deward Mabry is shown directly to the left.

We are happy to see so many of our employees building their own homes.

Easter Hats

FRANK CARLETON NELSON

I never would boast of the bargains I make,
if for no other reason than honesty's sake;
For he who will brag in buying he's slick,
is apt in his selling to stoop to a trick
That isn't exactly what business should be.
And this is the thing that's distasteful to me,
For I've had some experience with shrewd buying folks
And the deals that they made I considered as jokes.

Yet in purchasing goods I am tempted to feel
I can exercise judgment in making the deal,
And I think I know values, at least pretty well,
Of the things that I buy and the things that I sell,
With just one exception, in this I confess
I know so blamed little I couldn't know less
Of what I am doing or where I am at,
When I go with my wife for her new Easter hat.

I know in my mind when I enter the store
The one that's becoming is bound to cost more
Than those that are not, and I never could see
Or understand fully just why it should be.
It's not the material that goes in the thing
That gives it the price that they say it must bring,
But the shape and the style and the smartness and such
Are the reasons they give for it costing so much.

For I know that the milliners all have to live,
So I never would question the reasons they give,
And living costs money and hats must be high,
And the things that they tell me I wouldn't deny.
But there's just one mistake that they're making, I fear,
In changing the models four times a year,
Yet the man is unwise who would speak about that
When he goes with his wife for her new Easter hat.

Boy: "Maybe it wouldn't, but take a crack at it, anyway."

Girl: "I wish the boys would stop bothering me."

Her Sister: "But we've just moved here. You don't know any boys yet."

Girl: "That's what's bothering me."

Teacher: "Is it correct to say, 'You have et?'"

Boy: "No, it's wrong."

Teacher: "Why is it wrong?"

Boy: "Because I aint et yet."

Many Pacolet Employees Own Homes

Pacolet Mills have made a policy of encouraging and wholeheartedly supporting the practice of employees owning and building their own homes.

Many of the houses dotting our community are home owned, and we're glad to see their number increasing steadily.

Years ago Pacolet Mills began selling off its vacant land adjoining the village to employees who wished to buy lots and build their own homes. These lots consisted of tracts of from one acre to as much as five acres in some instances. The neat cottages to be seen on every side were built almost without exception by Pacolet Mills payroll money—thrifty employees building their own homes.

Miss Belle Fuller has compiled a list of Pacolet employees who have bought or built their own homes during the last 25 years. The list is so lengthy we cannot publish it at one time, but we hope to publish a few at a time beginning in the May issue.

Miss Fuller is taking a great interest in visiting with many of these families. She reports that it is a great joy to see how well furnished and attractive the homes are.

Stick Together Families

MRS. H. L. JOHNSON

The stick-together families are happier by far

Than the brothers and sisters who take separate highways are.
The gladdest people living are the wholesome folks who make,

A circle at the fireside that no power but death can break.

And the finest of conventions ever held beneath the sun,

Are the little family gatherings when busy days are done.

There are some who seem to fancy that for gladness they must roam,

That for smiles that are brightest they must wander far from home—

That a strange friend is the true friend, and they travel far astray.

And they waste their lives in striving for a joy that's far away.

But the gladdest sort of people when the busy day is done,

Are the brothers and the sisters who together share their fun.

It's the stick-together family that wins the joy of earth,

That hears the sweetest music, and that finds the finest mirth—

It's the old home roof that shelters all the charm that life can give.

And oh, weary wandering brother, if contentment you would win,

Come back into the fireside, And be comrade with your kin.

One Year Old

The Pacolet Neigh is one year old and this issue marks the first number in our second year.

And say, how do you like our community newspaper? What feature do you like best? What changes would you suggest, or what improvements can you suggest?

We would like to hear from you, because it really is a newspaper for you.

Pacolet High Beta Club Activities

The Pacolet Beta Club, member of The National Beta Club, is proud of its recent achievement. At the last meeting of the Council it was successful in having its candidate elected as president of the Spartanburg County Beta Club. Spartanburg County, known athletically as District 11, is the only county in the state organized along such district lines, there being only one other organization in the state approximately approaching it. There are something like 19 Beta Clubs in Spartanburg County. This gives the county, or district a rather strategic place in the Beta Club affairs of the state. Already the Pacolet club, which is one of the largest, having forty-one members, is taking seriously to the idea of running a candidate for state office.

Our county or district president

JIM PARRISH, District President

for next year is Jim Parrish, a rising Junior. Jim has been very active in school affairs, having tried out for football and basketball. He has gone in for drama and music. He has given generously of his time and effort to the students through the medium of his service in the Canteen and as part-time manager for some of the sports. He is Sports Editor of the Telapaco News, President of his class and a top-flight student. His fellow Betas have confidence in his ability to represent them well in this new task.

One thing that was learned by the club is that such an honor does not come to it by accident. With the help of the club, its sponsor, Mrs. Alice L. Williams, and the able political generalship of Anne Shealy and Gene Brown and others it was able to achieve an almost unanimous vote. The club and Jim hereby express their combined appreciation for this generous support, and hope they may have the continued support of these clubs in their plans for state president for next year.

Twenty-two of the club members went to Columbia to the convention, the officers going over Friday night and others going over on Saturday. Going over Friday night were: Mrs. Williams, Sponsor; Carolyn Seay, President; Bruce Parrish, Vice-President; Rebecca Brown, Secretary; Joan Robinette, Reporter; Jim Parrish, District President; and Gene Brown (The Gentleman from Goucher) and semi-official campaign strategist). Going over Saturday were: Bobby Hart, driver; Weldon Hood, graduate; Wilbur and Reid McBride; Roy Mathis. Also going were: Mrs. Lillian B. Parrish, driver; Oren Robinette, Jr., John Trowell, Anne Shealy, Merle Allie, and Shirley Caton. Also W. S. Parrish, Supt.; Kenneth White, Nancy Fuller, Patricia Phillips, Barbara Weathers, and Lucile James attended.

The convention opened with a get-acquainted punch bowl party followed by a program of skits from a number of clubs. Two general sessions which provided for student participation, a tea at the governor's mansion, and a banquet replete with toasts and speech by the president of Winthrop College finished our day, except for the long trek home brightened by songs and jokes.

—W. S. PARRISH, Supt.

Preacher Graphs

It is always too late to make over the past but never too late to make tomorrow better than yesterday.

If our work is never criticized we will never have any way of knowing whether or not we are pleasing those for whom we work.

Those who insist that you bite the hand that is feeding you would be the last to furnish you with any bread.

Worry over that you cannot remedy will give you something to do but it will never get you or the fellow anywhere.

BEWARE of the fellow who tries to sell you something he cannot prove by demonstration is as good

Pacolet OES Chapter Wins High Rating

A grade of 95 was awarded the Dorcas Chapter Order of Eastern Star of Pacolet at a recent annual inspection and banquet, Mrs. Bertha Thomas, worthy matron of the chapter has announced.

The banquet was held in the Community Club and inspection ceremonies in the Masonic Hall.

Visiting district officers were: Mrs. Flossie Miller, worthy grand matron, of Union; Abe Wyman, worthy grand patron, of Greenville; A. P. Harris, associate grand patron of Spartanburg; and Mrs. Corrie Lee Bost, district 4 deputy, of Spartanburg.

The invocation was delivered by Mrs. Thomas; the welcome by Mrs. Samille Weeks; and the response by T. E. Christenberry.

Officers of the Pacolet chapter are: Faye Baker, worthy patron; Mrs. Lucille Holmes, associate matron; Manley Minton, associate patron; Mrs. Lucille Baker, secretary; Mrs. Anne Arnold, treasurer; Mrs. Ruby White, conductress; Mrs. Alice Trowell, associate conductress.

Also, Mrs. Lillie Belle Patrick, chaplain; Mrs. Ola Minton, marshal; Mrs. Mary Reeves, organist; Mrs. Helen Wilkins, Adah; Mrs. Samille Weeks, Ruth; Mrs. Annette Greene, Esther; Mrs. Hazel Gallman, Martha; Mrs. Ocie Mathis, Electa; Mrs. Inez Harmon, warden; and J. B. Weeks, sentinel.

as he says it is.

You make character while you make cloth when you show by your life that LOVE works.

The time to watch yourself most is when you are by yourself.

It is fine to beat the other fellow in what you are doing if you are sure you are doing the right thing.

The fellow who constantly works at doing his duty will save much time in not having to think up excuses for not doing his duty.

Safety first works in the handling of other person's name as in anything else.

One side line advantage in reading the Bible daily is it will reduce your weekly expense at the News Stand.

Saturday afternoon, March 4th, little Bernell Motts celebrated his 4th birthday at the Girls Club. The little folks had a wonderful time taking over the club from 4 until 6 in the afternoon. The mothers who came with their youngsters seemed to have just as much fun. Miss Marygold Hodge, assisted Mrs. Lawrence Motts in entertaining children. The lovely birthday cake was baked and decorated by Mr. Calvin Gregory. After much fun, picture making, etc., the guests were served tasty refreshments of cake, pepsi-cola and Easter egg candy. 20 of Bernell's friends attended his party.

An Easter Egg Legend

EULA ROSS

There was a rabbit young and spry, who started out one day With knapsack new and walking stick, in holiday array.

He leaped across a little stream and landed with a bound Exactly in the middle of a piece of rocky ground.

He filled his pockets full of stones to throw in boastful wrath If other rabbits should dispute his right to any path.

He sped across a meadow green—leaped nimbly over logs And took the path that led him down to wild blackberry bogs.

But suddenly he stopped beneath a gray and mossy oak, And from a limb above his head a big gray hoot-owl spoke.

He said, "Hoo-hoo, and who are you?" Poor Bunny rabbit froze With terror and then tried to think by wrinkling up his nose.

He sat on his hind legs and looked up in the tree and there He saw more owls than he could count—with yellow eyes aglare.

The owls told Bunny rabbit they would carry him away And put him in a hollow tree where wee owl birdies stay,

Unless he proved that he could do some new and wondrous thing That all the birds would talk about and would his praises sing.

They place him in a pen of boughs and then they flew away; Poor frightened Bunny rabbit thought "Tomorrow's Easter Day,

"And here I am a prisoner forsaken and afraid."

He whimpered softly to himself and then knelt down and prayed. Now on her way to look for food a speckled hen came by;

She talked with Bunny rabbit; she told him she would try To help him think of something but all that she could suggest

Was just to bring him twelve white eggs and place them in a nest. The Bumble-bee was passing by; said he, "That's nothing new,

I know a way that you can have twelve eggs of every hue,

"And that will be a grand surprise—the big gray owls will be So much chagrined that they at once will have to set you free."

Straightaway he flew out o'er the fields and buzzed among the flowers Who were the little rabbits friends for he had played for hours

Amidst their fragrant blossoms. So, the busy Bumble-bee Hum-hummed the tale and every flower consented gleefully.

The rustling breezes told the grass—the gentle speckled hen Cluck-clucked the news to all her flock—by night in Bunny's pen

A nice big nest held twelve white eggs—and when the moon arose All the little flower friends came stealing on tip-toes.

The butter-cups brought yellow and the blue-bells gave their blue, Came violets with their lavender—pink daisies wet with dew.

And golden poppies, daffodils, larkspurs and clover red The meadow grasses left their green and slipped away to bed.

The black-eyed Susans brought their friends; the Johnny-jump-ups too,

The columbines, the four o'clocks and every flower that grew.

The Indian paint brushes put the many colors on Then washed their hands and stole away before the Easter dawn.

The big gray owls came flying back just at the break of day And there in Bunny rabbit's pen a nest of bright eggs lay.

The owls were very much amazed; they could not think it so, They hooted but they kept their word and let poor Bunny go.

This happened on an Easter morn a long, long time ago, But Bunny's friends have ever told the secret that they know.

And every Easter time since then—they play the prank again And color nests of Easter eggs to leave in Bunny's pen.

And that, dear little boys and girls is how it comes to pass On Easter morning colored eggs lie hidden in the grass.
